On Planet Earth we have news that UK Army troops are being added to the action to help the Rangers in Malawi to try to prevent The Black Rhino following in the steps of the White Rhino which is so sadly now officially extinct. It is wonderful news that a baby Rhino has been successfully born in Chester Zoo. Visit if you can. It is a fantastic zoo in the North of England and does great work for endangered species.

In Australia today we hear the plight of a delightful little animal from the ring tail Possum family, called The Greater Glider. It has bat like big ears and lives in the Strathbogie and other forests in Victoria and Queensland and behaves like a Flying Squirrel.

Commercial logging threatens its habitat and it may become extinct. The governments of the world have to come to terms with controlling logging as Planet Earth is rapidly being destroyed as our forests are decimated and not replanted fast enough to cope with the losses. Global warming is also causing massive annual forest fires in countries across the globe which make things even worse. The greed of mankind is quite disastrous and so very short term.

In Bowdlefloreland we aim to breed all sorts of amazing species so join us and put your own fantasy animal into the Online Bowdleflored Zoo and help us concentrate minds on the fate of Endangered Species on Planet Earth.
